Elisheva Shira is an American-born and trained artist living in Israel. She holds a Bachelor's degree from Parson's School of Design in N.Y.C. and a Master's of Fine Art from Suny New Paltz.

She has exhibited her work in the U.S. and Israel. She is now living in the hills outside of Jerusalem, Israel with her husband and five children.

“As a Jewish woman and a painter, I draw my inspiration from every day life, where I find the expression of beauty and holiness in all that surrounds me. Using the medium of oil and pastel, my hope is to inspire a deeper appreciation for the Creator of the universe, and to bring a message of healing, change and celebration of life.”
